9. Race procedure:

(1) Starting order

- 1) The half marathon starts at 9:00 a.m. and the full marathon starts at 9:10 a.m.
- 2) For both races, the first row will consist of invited athletes and runners registered with industrial or student associations. Behind them there will be JAAF registered runners followed by general runners. General runners will have a letter attached to their number cards, based on their race predicted times. The letters (A→B→C→D→E→F→G) correspond to blocks (marked with placards). General runners will be assigned to block G if they have not recorded a predicted race time.

*Please be sure to record your predicted race time correctly because it is not possible to change your starting position after the registration.

(2) Checkpoints

Checkpoints will close at the following times. Runners arriving after these times will not be allowed to continue the race.
